Project from EDE certificate to EAN 2021+

- The unique training programme E.A.N. certificate for managers in long-term care 2021+ was created as output of the international project under leadership of Association of Social Services Providers, Czech Republic
- Project period: 1st November 2018 to 30th November 2021
- Project partners:
 - European Ageing Network (E.A.N.) - Luxembourg
 - Alexandru Ioan Cuza University of Iași - Romania
 - Lebenswelt Heim - Bundesverband - Austria
 - Institut für Bildungs im Gesundheitsdienst GmbH (IBG) - Austria
 - Bildungszentrum der Jesuiten und der Caritas gemeinnützige Ges.m.b.H. - Austria
 - Wolfgang Rath Consulting e.U. – Austria
- This unique training programme E.A.N. certificate 2021+ was created as the update of the successful E.D.E. certificate
- Schedule of the project – final phase – see next slide

Structure of the new EAN certificate

3 levels

- BASIC – 200 teaching units (45 min)
- ADVANCED – 520 teaching units (45 min)
- PROFESSIONAL – 800 teaching units (45 min)

13 modules

- Principle of flexibility = modular education to reflect current state in the social service area in different countries and their specific topics
 - Every level contains a range of minimum and maximum number of teaching units so that every VET provider can adjust the whole programme to the demand, needs and expectations.
- Module 13 is blank and prepared for country specific topics (i.e., legislation, Quality management, structure of long-term care, etc.)

Offer of the training modules may vary from country to country. In some countries is available only BASIC and ADVANCED level, in some countries PROFESSIONAL level only

New EAN curriculum is based on so called „Teaching units table“. This table divide full time education and alternative forms of education into lines according to the modules and set MIN and MAX teaching units

There are 4 versions of these tables:

- BASIC only
- ADVANCED only
- PROFESSIONAL only
- All levels step by step: BASIC + ADVANCED + PROFESSIONAL

Accreditation process, fees

1. VET providers submit a written request to E.A.N. including own curriculum
2. E.A.N. compares this curriculum with the E.A.N. guidelines and determines whether the submitted curriculum fully complies with the E.A.N. guidelines and training conditions and, if they agree, gives its approval for the certification of the VET provider/training centre
3. The declaration of consent for the signature and the stipulation of the certification fee are sent to the VET provider
4. After receipt of the signed declaration of consent and receipt of payment, the certificate including the accompanying letter will be issued, signed by the President and given to the VET provider
5. By signing the declaration of consent, the VET provider undertakes to inform E.A.N. immediately about changes and/or additions to the curriculum or agrees that E.A.N. can inspect the documents of the respective curriculum
